

TIMMERMAN FOR CONGRESS

Maryland 8th District

Friend of Freedom!

You know freedom is not free. Each of us who enjoys our freedom here at home in America owes a debt to the men and women in uniform who have been willing to pay the ultimate price so that all of us could be free.

This has been true for each generation since the founding of our Republic. Thankfully, another generation has stepped forward to defend our nation again today.

Today is the culmination of Armed Forces Week, a time when we pay tribute to our troops.

I have been proud to walk with our soldiers, sailors and airmen on many foreign battlefields and to accompany them on many foreign seas. I have seen up close the sacrifices they have made.

Just last night, I had the privilege and honor to join some of our wounded warriors in a tribute offered by the Kiwanis Club of Potomac, Maryland. The courage and grace of these young men as they recover from what once would have been debilitating wounds should be uplifting to us all. I salute them and leaders such as Lieutenant General John F. Mulholland, commander of U.S. Army Special Operations Command, whose insights fresh from the latest battlefield in Afghanistan should give us pause before we ask our young men and women yet again to go to war.

We ask our young men and women in uniform to pick up the pieces when our politicians make mistakes. I see a huge mistake in the making: war with Iran.

This is a war we can prevent, a war we don't need to fight. But it is a war that is increasingly becoming inevitable because of the fecklessness of our political leaders.

I believe we must change our policy now before it is too late. We must help the people of Iran to get rid of their murderous regime, before we are dragged into a war not of our own choosing.

I urge you to take a look at my plan for changing the misguided policies of the Obama administration and its predecessors at this special webpage:

I lay out a blueprint for the future, a future built on American values, and American interests.

Freedom is my cause, starting here at home. But sometimes, helping others to fight for their freedom can be in our national interest.

I believe we owe it to our men and women in uniform to do the right thing – now, before it's too late – so they don't have to pick up the pieces from yet another mistake made by politicians in Washington.

Won't you help me in this struggle?

Yours in freedom,

Ken Timmerman
Republican Candidate for Congress
8th District of Maryland
